

Elliot Vernet obtained a degree in biomedical engineering with a specialty in clinical engineering from the Universidad Autónoma Metropolitana (UAM).

He is the director of the company 310MED, dedicated to services for medical equipment. In addition, he has collaborated in local and federal administrations in the departments of finance and administration. he is currently a professor at Universidad Estatal de Sonora.

He has been recognized with the “Clinical Engineering Outstanding Teamwork Award” granted by the International Federation of Medical and Biological Engineering (IFMBE), the “Antonio Hernández International Clinical Engineering Award” by the American College of Clinical Engineering (ACCE) and the award "Ing. Ambrosio Ulloa” to the engineer of the year 2021 by the Jalisco Union of Engineering Groups (UJAI).

He is an active member of scientific and professional associations such as SOMIB, CORAL, IFMBE, IEEE-EMBS, and AAMI.

He has held the honorary positions of:

- President of the Mexican Society of Biomedical Engineering. 2014-2017
- Delegate representing Mexico to the International Federation of Medical and Biological Engineering (IFMBE) 2014-2022
- Treasurer of the Federation of Scientific Societies of Mexico. 2013-2014
- Member of the IFMBE Memberships, constitution and bylaw committee. 2018-2022
- Currently serves as president of the Regional Council of Biomedical Engineering for Latin America-CORAL.

He has participated since 2014 on the organization of the Mexican National Congress of Biomedical Engineering with over 2,000 attendees each edition on Vallarta, Mazatlán, Merida, and Monterrey, he also has organized he VIII Latin American Congress of Biomedical Engineering (CLAIB) 2019, Cancun, Mexico.

Position Statement

Prof. Elliot Vernet participates actively in scientific and professional societies. He has participated since 2014 on the organization of the Mexican National Congress of Biomedical Engineering with over 2,000 attendees each edition on Vallarta, Mazatlán, Merida, and Monterrey, he also has organized he VIII Latin American Congress of Biomedical Engineering (CLAIB) 2019, Cancun, Mexico. His principal activity is in the Promotion of the profession of BME at national and international authorities.

If he is elected as Treasurer in IUPESM AC, he engages:

- Collaborate and maintain communication with the President and Vice President.
- Keep a budget control
- Oversee accounting and administration