EFOMP endorsement of Greek proposal for IUPESM 2031

To whom it may concern,

On behalf of EFOMP's governing committee, we wish to endorse and support the Hellenic Association of Medical Physicists (HAMP) in collaboration with the Hellenic Society of Biomedical Technology (ELEVIT) and the Hellenic Society of Nanotechnology in Health Sciences (HSNanoHS) bid for organising the World Congress of Medical Physics & Biomedical Engineering in Athens, Greece (IUPESM/WC 2031).

Our experience in hosting events in Athens alongside HAMP has given us great confidence that Athens is the ideal venue for IUPESM 2031.

Sincerely,

Efi Koutsouveli
EFOMP IPresident

The Hellenic Society of Biomedical Technology (ELEVIT)

A scientific association dedicated to advancing technological applications in biomedical sciences, strengthening research, and promoting education in Biomedical Technology and Clinical Engineering.

The logo for ELEVIT features the word "ELEVIT" in a bold, green, sans-serif font, centered within a white rectangular box with a green border. This box is set against a background of concentric, semi-transparent green and light blue circular bands that form a partial circle on the right side of the image.

WHO ARE WE?

The Hellenic Society for Biomedical Technology (ELEVIT)

is a scientific association dedicated to advancing technological applications in the biomedical sciences. Its mission is to foster research, enhance education, and promote innovation in the field of Biomedical Technology in Greece.

ELEVIT is a proud member of IFMBE (International Federation for Medical and Biological Engineering), EAMBES (European Alliance for Medical and Biological Engineering & Science) and GCEA (Global Clinical Engineering Alliance).

ELEVIT

ELEVIT organizes the Panhellenic Conference of Biomedical Technology every two years, along with frequent thematic meetings on topics such as Clinical Engineering, Biomedical Signal and Medical Image Processing, Biosensors & Biomechanics, IoT, Robotics in Rehabilitation, Medical Equipment Inventory, Certification of Clinical Engineering, and Technology & Healthcare Management, among others.
